

Dear FCC, I do not see any good purpose in putting limitations on satellite radio stations to offer broadcasts of any kind, be it local or national. Satellite stations offer diverse programing to a growing number of subscribers and I strongly feel that imposing restrictions would limit 1st Amendment rights to access information relevant to ones daily life. Thank you.